

A WORLD OF COLOUR

Woven shawls from Kashmir, India became such a popular fashion item in the 1800's that they were soon manufactured in other countries including Scotland, England and France. This paisley shawl was purchased in Scotland in 1871 by an immigrant who had returned to Scotland to attend his mother's funeral. He brought this shawl back to Canada as a gift for his wife.

©CMC 95-455 / D-769