

Trench Art

This is an example of a shell casing that was decorated and kept as piece of art. Made from a variety of war-related materials, trench art was made by soldiers, civilians and commercial firms during and after the First World War.

Original artifact