Map

This map was drawn to help plan and execute battles during the First World War. The map shows the natural terrain of the area as well as human-made elements like buildings, roads, railway lines, weapon positions and trenches.

Reproduction